

Elementary Literature "THINK IN" 2015

A collaborative workshop between Cedar Valley West elementary schools

September 26, 2015 9:00am to 1:00pm

Grundy Center Elementary ~ 903 9th Street

Join like-minded individuals in discussing current elementary children's literature topics and listen to keynote speaker, John Schumacher!

Who Should Come?

- * Elementary teachers
- * Librarians
- * Elementary principals
- * Preservice teachers

#ThinkIn2015

IT'S FREE!

Here's How it Works!

1. Register for free online
2. Choose your two sessions
3. Bring ideas and information to share during your sessions
4. Learn from Mr. Schu and colleagues
5. Leave motivated and energized!

Photo by Gary Payne/Getty Images

John Schumacher

The School Library Journal named John Schumacher (aka Mr. Schu) "The Xtreme Librarian" for the extreme tactics he uses to make the school library the heart of the school. This keynote will provide a glimpse into

Mr. Schu's elementary school library program. Participants will learn about practical and innovative ways to get their students excited about reading, booktalking, connecting with authors, and technology.

As a former Newbery selection committee member and Scholastic Reading Summit presenter, John will also use his literary expertise to share the "Best Books (so far) of 2015, along with some timeless favorites.

Find session topics and register for free at thinkin2015.weebly.com
The Think In is open to a limited number of participants! Come join us!